IT COULDN'T RAIN in Terrace for the Chamber of Commerce Convention starting Thursday. But for convention chairman Bob Christ and wife Margit who'll be welcoming delegates' wives, the possibility is at least being considered. See also supplement pages 14-16.

Chambers to hear Martin

Look for 200 delegates when the Northwest Regional Chamber of Commerce convention goes into action tomorrow. Convention runs March 21, 22 and 23.

And one of the favored candidates to be Canada's next Prime Minister, External Affairs Minister Paul Martin heads an impressive list of speakers.

Martin is scheduled to speak at the Friday luncheon. Other speakers include D.A. Duguid of Westcoast Transmission and S. G. Patterson of B. C. Telephone.

The regional convention covers northwest British Columbia and Alaska affiliates of the Chamber of Commerce.

Seventeen Chambers are expected to be represented at the meeting. Overall convention theme is "Crossroads to the future."

Convention Chairman Bob Christ of Terrace has appealed to local members to register now for the convention.

He said a registration fee is $15 with a registration for wives at $10.

"Tickets are also available for individual events," he said. Prices are: get-acquainted reception, $4; luncheon, $4; and Friday night banquet and dance $8 per person.

Terrace's Lakelse Hotel will be headquarters for the majority of sessions.

Convention resolutions are expected to call for improvements to major highways in the area and an appeal to the Provincial Government to study the work of the Alberta Northern Development Commission and to establish a similar body in British Columbia.

Licence sales up to Terrace

Motor vehicle licence plates sales were up by an estimated two to three per cent over last year.

According to the Terrace Government agent, 2,595 passenger vehicle and 1,215 commercial vehicle licence plates were sold in January and February of this year.

Approximately a half dozen motorcycle licence plates were also sold. This figure is expected to climb rapidly as soon as warmer weather arrives.

SASQUATCH SEEKER Rene Dahinden with photograph of 15-inch footprint of what may be mythical hairyman taken in northern California. See story below.

Rene Dahinden on the sasquatch:

'Emotionally, I don't accept that big hairy so-and-so'

The man who searches for Sasquatches is in town. He is Rene Dahinden, a man who has been looking for the fabled hairy men since he came to Canada 12 years ago.

He is in Terrace to show the film of the Bigfoot taken in northern California last year. He will show it in the Oddfellows hall tonight (Wednesday at 7 and 9 p.m.).

He screened the film for the local press last week. It's impressive, far more impressive than still reproductions shown in the Vancouver papers.

The short color film shows one striking sequence of a tall gorilla-like animal with black fur but an unmistakably human walk.

Does he really believe in the Sasquatch?

"Technically and scientifically, I say 'yes' to the Sasquatch," he told the Herald. "But emotionally, I can't accept the idea of big hairy so-and-so's wandering around in the bush."

Dahinden feels that a breakthrough in the Sasquatch search could come this summer. He estimates the creatures to be from 7 to 12 feet tall, with a weight range of up to 800 pounds.

They could be dangerous too. He feels that disappearances in the Pitt Lake area may have been caused by the hairy man.

The film has been viewed by anthropologists and museum authorities with mixed reaction but some growing acceptance of the existence of the Sasquatch.

Rene Dahinden says he has an open mind on the subject but points strongly to the existence of giant footprints in eight separate locations in northern California near Eureka as substantive proof of the existence of the fabled creatures.

He's been a member of the Harrison search for Sasquatches in 1958, the Pacific Northwest exhibition in 1959-60 and more recent excursions to California.

He feels that there are three areas where they could be found in British Columbia but says tracks have been found on the coast of northern California and in the interior as well. There could even be Sasquatch in the Terrace-Kittimat area. He's currently investigating a report of a giant foot print imbedded in a rock.

AROUND THE TOWN

Mrs. Pepa Zagar and her sister Ann, left Tuesday for Edmonton to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Lee van Horn to whom a baby girl was born on Friday, March 15.

Among the patients in Mills Memorial Hospital this week are Al Purschke and Frank Morris.

W. J. Couper, who has been in Terrace with Avis Rent-a-Car for two years, has been transferred to Prince George.

Terrace Air Cadets spent a happy week-end in Kitimat as guests of the Kitimat Sea Cadets.

SCHOOL RENTAL PROTESTED

'A real kick in the teeth' recreation spokesman says

A School District 88 trustees' decision to charge $250 per month rental for evening use of Thornhill School has drawn strong protest from the Thornhill Recreation Commission.

TRIAL SET ON MURDER CHARGE

Roger Christopherson was held over for trial on a non-capital murder charge in Terrace Magistrate's Court, Monday.

He appeared before Magistrate C. J. Norrington.

Christopherson was charged following the shooting death of his mother-in-law, Mary Pearl McColl, 50, February 7.

His wife, Joanne Christopherson was also seriously wounded in the shooting affray.

Incident took place in the Keystone apartments.

Mrs. McColl is believed to have died almost instantly from a bullet wound in the heart.

Bowater looks at harbors

SMITHERS — The $100 million Bulkley Valley forest products complex could boost port development plans in Kitimat or Prince Rupert.

The complex will be centered in Houston and built by the Bulkley Valley Pulp and Timber Limited Co., a subsidiary of Bowater Canadian Corporation and Consolidated Bathurst Limited.

Bulkley Valley interest in port development was revealed by executive vice-president Derek G. Currie (March 11) when he announced plans to build a pulp mill, sawmill, and major logging enterprises.

Currie did not specify location of a port. But he referred to "new bulk cargo carriers which are becoming increasingly common in the handling of lumber and other forest products."

He continued: "Port facilities must be available at both the loading and discharge ends which are capable of handling these large vessels and turning them round very rapidly."

Currie told community leaders from the Smithers-Houston-Burns Lake area that the Company is now planning the initial lumber development stage, which will include:

Construction of a sawmill which will be one of the largest in the Province with an annual capacity of 200 million board feet;

Construction of approximately 135 miles of major, all-weather log trucking roads;

Construction of a major overpass just west of Houston, crossing the Bulkley River, the Canadian National tracks and the Northern Trans-Provincial Highway.

Mr. Currie said the Company will also provide the related service facilities associated with the major logging operations required to support the sawmill.

"It is our objective to have the sawmill in operation in the spring of 1970 by which time the site will have been developed in a manner suitable for its expansion to house increased lumber production, the manufacture of plywood and the production of pulp and paper," he told the meeting.

Mr. Currie said the first stage development alone represented a capital investment of approximately $22 million.

"It is, in itself, a major undertaking and of the greatest significance in the development of the Bulkley Valley. In terms of employment of labor and in consumption of wood, it is comparable to a 500-ton pulp mill," he added.

When completed, the sawmill will provide employment for approximately 570 people, of whom some 320 will be engaged in logging operations.

A small town is a place where everyone knows whose check is good and whose husband isn't.

"We personally feel that the school board, or at least some members of the board, do not want the schools used after hours. This is probably their way of getting us out," Recreation Commission member Mrs. Ken English told the Herald.

"We all feel this is a real kick in the teeth to us personally," she said.

School board member Jack Cook announced the decision of the board to charge $3,000 per annum at a recreation commission meeting, March 12. The commission previously used the school premises without any rental charged.

The new agreement would also require the Thornhill Recreation Commission to pay janitors' fees.

Cook told the commission that rental costs should be passed on to the groups using the school premises at night.

Thornhill Recreation Commission called an emergency meeting Tuesday night to discuss the situation. They have also sent a registered letter to the school board calling for a meeting within seven days.

The meeting passed a resolution offering the school board $50 per month to cover the cost of light and extra maintenance.

The Thornhill school property is presently used at night by the Rod and Gun Club, karate group, gymnastics, badminton, square dance club, boys' orchestra and as a meeting place for the Thornhill Recreation Commission and Thornhill Ratepayers' Association.

The Thornhill Recreation Commission has been in operation for the past 15 months. Members say it would not be possible for local groups to pay the rental assessed by the school board.

The Thornhill Recreation Commission has raised some $7,000 in the past 15 months. However majority of this sum was used to cover costs and some $2,000 cleared was invested in recreation equipment.

A commission spokesman said that the commission has always done its best to co-operate with teachers and the board to avoid any upset to school curriculum or to cause any extra maintenance costs.

Smith Township, near Peterborough, Ont., officially opened its centennial project recently — a $46,000 five bay garage for parking road equipment.

NEW TWINRIVER TIMBER WOODS MANAGER, Ron Jordan who arrives in Terrace this week to take over from J.H. Jamieson who has left the Columbia Cellulose company.

Col Cel appointments

Nakusp man named to head Twinriver

Twinriver Timber in Terrace has a new man at the top. He is Ron R. Jordan who arrives here this week to take over the job of woods manager for the Columbia Cellulose company.

He succeeds James H. Jamieson who has left the company.

The Twinriver appointment is one of a continuing series of senior personnel changes made by Columbia Cellulose executive officer George R. Scrimshaw.

This same week Scrimshaw also appointed Clement Garside vice president in charge of logging and converting with responsibility for Celgar Woods Division, Celgar Lumber Division and Twinriver Timber.

Garside is responsible for the administration of the woods operation including logging, log sales and purchases, chip purchases, lumber manufacturing and sales, and "any other wood product areas which the company may enter" according to a Columbia Cellulose spokesman.

Appointment of Hans A. Bruhe as vice president in charge of pulp manufacturing was also released this week.

"This realignment of responsibilities results from a reorganization along product lines rather than geographical lines to establish more effective management control," the company said. Jordan was a principal in the Jordan Bros. Logging and Pole Company and later the Big Bend Timber Company, purchased by Columbia Cellulose in 1958. He became Woods Superintendent for the Celgar operations, rising to Woods Manager in 1954.

The Celgar Woods Division is a complex operation involving more than 200 miles of river driving and towing from the Big Bend at Mica Creek to the pulp mill and sawmill at Castlegar.

Jordan has been active in community affairs at Nakusp, holding chairmanships in Rotary, Chamber of Commerce and the Parks Board.

His appointment as Manager at Terrace is effective immediately. Mrs. Alma Jordan and their daughter, Becky, will arrive in Terrace towards the end of April. Mr. and Mrs. Jordan have three daughters.

A Twinriver man will replace Jordan at the Nakusp operation. He is J. D. Sigalek, at present logging contract supervisor for the local company.

BUNIO'S BOUGHT FOOD for the world's hungry Sunday when some 39 youngsters from Veritas Catholic school and seven adults hiked for $500 in donations to the recently established Canadian Catholic Organization for Development and Peace. The three boys from left: John Losler, Tony De Medeiros and Rex Knoche made it to the Hot Springs, while Rosemary Onstein was one of the better walkers for the girls. Father O.P. Mohan said that Terrace Catholics will contribute to the fund at Masses next Sunday (March 24).

A common concern

The chamber of Commerce regional convention here this week underlines a growing need for the total area.

The need is for the Pacific Northwest to work together as a total geographical unit to achieve development which for too long has lagged behind the growth rate of the province.

Admittedly, that development has already started with belated paving and reconstruction of Highway 16, and with the announcements of growing primary and secondary industry in the area.

However, efforts to improve conditions in the past have too frequently been isolated appeals from specific communities rather than an integrated appeal for the total area.

Reasonable enough, a Chamber of Commerce is first dedicated to improving the economic condition in its own community, but the communities will ultimately all benefit from a common concern for the Pacific Northwest.

Rental for the schools?

Current dispute between the Thornhill Recreation Commission and School District No. 88 raises some disquieting issues.

The school board is attempting to charge rental for the use of its property. The recreation commission does not dispute the board's right to charge rent but it does dispute the estimated $3,000 per year it will be charged.

A recent call for study of more increased use of school board premises by B.C. Education Minister L. R. Peterson underlines a concept which is gaining growing acceptance by most people: the use of school buildings by the public for educational and recreational purposes.

The idea is highly practical and must eventually achieve a major public relations breakthrough to hard-pressed taxpayers who have to carry the tax burden for education. It offers the utilization of publicly financed buildings which otherwise are used only for some seven hours per day.

Already, School District 88 has offered use of its facilities in the Terrace area.

The Thornhill Recreation Commission's protest does warrant more than a casual dismissal. The commission is a non-profit organization which has achieved some measure of needed recreational activity for both adults and children of the area.

It is obvious that the rental charged will make it impossible for the commission to continue its work on the present financial structure.

Hopefully, some ground for reasonably compromise can be found here.

ANDY CAPP...

Letters to the Editor

Editor, Herald

Please, please, Mr. Editor, try to find out the score on who bought the "dust factory" which operates from 12 midnight, night after night, for years and years, in the business section of Terrace, supposedly as a street cleaner.

Some idiot, somewhere, somehow, in our municipal organization, bought a fiendish machine intended to be used for snow or with water and pensioned an operator off on it. And up to this point not one single person has had the guts to point out that somebody has made a blunder.

This machine, whether the merchants know it or not, is costing the people on main street tens of thousands of dollars per year in dust damage to merchandise, buildings and health.

Apart from that, people living anywhere within blocks of its operational area, wake up in the morning with one hellish "dust-over" and don't know what caused it.

I suggest, Mr. Editor, that someone in our municipal mechanism should take a trip to the Eastern States, or Eastern Canada, or even Edmonton, to see how intelligent people wash down their streets.

Problems which arise as a consequence of a lack of money are excusable. Problems which arise as a consequence of our outright ignorance can't be excused.

TERRACE OMINECA TERRIERS who go into the playoffs this week in the Kitimat Commercial Hockey League.

Terriers outshoot Shells; in playoffs

By JOHN OMAN
Terrace Omineca Terriers, in a warm up game for the playoffs beat Northwest Shell 7 to 4, March 11.

Merchants edged in Rupert cage

The Terrace Little Merchants were defeated by a 1 point margin in Prince Rupert, Saturday. Final score in the basketball game was 35-34 for the Prince Rupert junior all-star team despite an excellent 17 point effort by Little Merchant's Bill Kellar.

The Terrace Tipsters, also playing in Prince Rupert over the weekend, lost two games to the Prince Rupert Chiefs by scores of 103-72 and 94-76.

Lacking players, the Tipsters tired quickly from the lack of bench strength and combined with the glass backboards which were strange to the players, they could not keep the lead.

Scoring for the Little Merchants were: Bill Kellar, 17; Dale Prest; 8, Dennis Williams; 4, Delano Strasburg; 4, Harry Baxter; 1.

Terrace Tipsters: in the first game: John Oman; 33, Mel Marquardt; 11, Doug McKay; 10, Al Blessin; 8, Harold Cham-poux; 6, Colin Chastenuet; 2, Steve Reynolds; 2.

Second game: John Oman; 25, Mel Marquardt; 15, Harold Cham-poux; 14, Doug McKay; 12, Colin Chastenuet; 6, Al Blessin; 4.

The Terriers were down 3-0 when Dale Kushner, assisted by Harold Flogun and Ian Johnson picked up the first goal. This was followed up by an unassisted goal by Al Pritchett.

In the second period two goals were scored by Ed Kushner, and one each by Martin O'Brien, Harold Flogun and Mitch Oly-nick. Assists were picked up by Mel Motz (2), Ed Kushner, Leo O'Brien and Martin O'Brien.

Stars of the game were goal-keeper Dwain MacDonald and defencemen Al Pritchett and Mel Motz.

Former defenceman Ed Kush-ner, in his new position as centre with the O'Brien line, picked up two goals and an assist and his hard checking kept the puck in Kitimat territory most of the game.

Coach Pete Fanning and Man-ager Ed Stanik said they expected big things from newly acquired Mitch Olynick, who is another hard checking forward.

A win by Northwest Shell would have put them in first place.

Peter Fanning said that his team, with the three forward lines and the hard checking de-fense, has the depth to over-come City Centre Hardware in the semi's and either Alcan or Northwest Shell in the finals.

Terrace Arts Council launched next Monday

The Terrace Arts Council is "the recreation commission's baby."

"But once it's born it has nothing to do with the commis-sion."

Those quotes are from Edna Cooper, the metaphorical mid-wife to this new cultural phen-omenon on the local scene.

The Terrace Arts Council for-mally comes into existence at 8 p.m., Monday March 25, in the Terrace Community Cen-tre.

Edna Cooper, a member of the Recreation Commission, is now issuing a general invitation to anyone whose cultural interests go beyond the funny papers to turn out for the meeting.

Life of every member of the com-munity," she said.

The about-to-begin Terrace Community Arts Council is ex-pected to follow the aims of other similar groups in the province.

Standard platform includes: co-ordination of the work of local cultural groups; fostering inter-est in local cultural efforts; keep-ing the public informed of local artistic work; and letting civic authorities know about the cul-tural needs of the community.

Boots repaired at train station

DUNCAN, B. C. (CP) — Not many people would think of taking their boots to a railway station to be repaired. But Ab Kotscher-owski, forced to quit the trucking business because of a back ail-ment, took a shoe repairing course then rented the old express room in the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's Dun-can station and set up shop. His best customers have been the CPR staff next door.

Edna Cooper is making an ap-peal to anyone interested in the overall picture of arts in the area to attend the meeting and to take part in the future work of the Terrace Community Arts Council.

"We want the people to have their say right at the start," she said.

"Most people feel that some-thing should be done to raise the standard of the arts in this area."

However, at least in Edna Cooper's book, raising the stand-ard of the arts doesn't mean going artsy-crafty.

"Personally I'd like to see the artness taken out of the arts and make them part of the

The reason is money. B.C. Centennial Cultural fund grants are available. But they should be used where there is a Community Arts Council.

Picture Loan Association did escape the embargo by receiving a $500 grant to promote native art in the area, most notably by the visit of Rufus Moody to Ter-race in January.

PACING PROGRESS...

No Canadian should remain indifferent to the fact that there is, in this country, a program whose objective is to promote progress in disadvantaged rural areas.

ARD A is a joint Federal-Provincial program and its goals are to increase income and employment opportunities of rural people and increase the efficient use of rural lands.

In order to achieve these objectives, ARDA is using various means:

- land use has been improved on two million acres in Western Canada through community pastures, grazing reserves, recreation and wildlife projects.
- rural people are being assisted to find alternative employment opportunities.
- new jobs are being created through resource development projects in rural areas.

Comprehensive regional development programs are underway in the Interlake District of Manitoba and in the Edson District of Alberta. The Interlake program under ARDA/FRED provides 85 million dollars of federal and provincial funds for human and physical resource development.

- over 40 million dollars have been committed to drainage, flood control, irrigation system renovation and land conservation projects throughout Western Canada.

In brief, social and economic development for rural people and optimum utilization of natural resources are the two concepts inspiring ARDA.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Re: Water Frontage Tax
For the information of property owners in the District of Terrace: The new water frontage tax by-law has changed the method of calculating water frontage tax. In the previous by-law all lots abutting a public water line, regardless of size, were deemed to have 50 feet of frontage for taxation purposes. A rate of 40 cents per foot was levied and this derived a tax of $20.00 per lot per year.

The new by-law states that all lots abutting a public water line with a frontage of 100 feet or less shall be deemed to have frontage of 100 feet for taxation purposes. A rate of 25 cents per foot will be levied and this will derive a tax of $25.00 per lot per year. For lots larger than 100 feet a sliding scale will be used. For properties abutting on privately constructed water lines the old by-law stated that the taxable frontage shall be 10 feet, regardless of size, and when the rate of 40 cents per foot was applied it derived a tax of $4.00 per lot per year. The new by-law states that these lots will be deemed to have a taxable frontage of 100 feet, regardless of size, and a rate of 10 cents per foot will be levied, deriving a tax of $10.00 per lot per year. This tax of $10.00 per lot on private water lines will apply regardless of the size of the lot.

The sewer frontage tax will be the same as last year.

the gab bag

The Gab Bag was cut short in its prime this week, which is at least an excuse to air some of the woes of the newspaper business. The size of the paper is decided on Friday afternoon after a study of the local news situation, photo assignments and advertising content. And after that we're stuck with it. This week after the size of the paper was set a deluge of advertising agency copy from Vancouver and Toronto came in over the weekend. We managed to keep our local copy intact but the Gab Bag got a major axe. Only alternative was to have cut LAURIE ENGLISH'S interview with MARG VAN HERD on women's rights and we chickened out.

NEIL McKERRACHER, former Terrace barber and current provincial president of the Elks is in Vancouver General Hospital.

Then there was the real big tipper who left $142 in his wallet on the counter of the Lakelse coffee shop the other day. And there was the hard-working waitress who found the wallet and returned it making one very nervous guy a great deal happier.

Spring is getting closer. Soon farmers will be out in the woods collecting sap instead of getting it in front of a television set.

DATSUN PICKUP

for the tough customer

1. easily hauls a ton
2. light on gas
3. 100,000 mile reliability
4. low on maintenance

$2095

SUGGESTED RETAIL PRICE P.O.E.

The Datsun Pickup is for people who like to drive both a hard bargain and a good truck. It packs a bonanza of practical features into a commonsense price.

The Datsun Pickup has a spunky overhead valve engine. It not only effortlessly moves the truck along at freeway speeds but has plenty in reserve when the load is heavy and the going rough. (This is the same power plant that won Datsun the 1967 Canadian Rally Championship, so you don't have to baby it.)

On the six foot bed you can park a full ton of anything and expect the pickup to haul it day in and day out... with real gas economy. And 100,000 mile reliability is no fiction. We know of a man in California who has put 175,000 miles on the clock without ever having a major repair. In 1967, Datsun sold 14,000 pickups in the U.S. ... more than all other import trucks combined.

Other things you get for your investment are a full synchromesh 4-speed shift, battery-saving alternator, vinyl interior, heater-defroster, windshield washers, seat belts, twin outside mirrors and 6-ply whitewalls.

So come on. Be a tough customer. Datsun's.

Ask Ann Landers:

Bear grease on his bushy hair: 'ware furniture'

DEAR ANN LANDERS: We just had our living room re-decorated and refurnished at considerable expense. The wall behind the sofa is now covered with an elegant powder-blue fabric.

A certain member of the family, who is a thoughtful, well-mannered person has a bushy head of hair which he plasters down with bear grease. This relative ruined our previous wall paper by putting his greasy head against it. I told my husband that if the relative puts his head on the new stuff I will politely ask him to sit somewhere else. My husband has informed me that I cannot 'nail a guest' and I'll just have to keep quiet and let him go ahead and ruin it. What do you say?

HEADING FOR TROUBLE

DEAR HEADING: No thoughtful, well-mannered person would deliberately ruin his host's wallpaper. When Mr. Bear Grease comes to visit, simply move the chairs and sofa away from the wall so that no head can lean against it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a girl of 13 with a problem that is on my mind day and night. My mother and dad are in the middle of a divorce. I do not want to live with either one of them.

My father is a moody man, hard to get along with and I am afraid of him. My mother is pregnant with another man's child, which is the reason for the divorce. I really do hate her. We have fought each other for as long as I can remember.

I know a family I would love to live with. They are kind and gentle and have always been wonderful to me. The problem is that they already have several children and I am afraid they couldn't afford to take me in. Someone told me there is a law that says my father must pay for my support until I am of legal age. If this is true couldn't he pay the support money to them?

Please answer in the paper because my mother reads my mail before I get it and sometimes she throws it out. Thanks, Ann.

SPARROW

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am interested in the advice you gave "The Three Graces" — the career girls who described themselves as "well-read, well-bred and well-stacked."

This trio of pulchritude complained that there are no eligible men in Cleveland. They said they had enrolled in an evening art class, joined a political action group and even joined a dancing club but failed to turn up a single good prospect.

You told the girls not to hunt in packs and cautioned them against behaving like siamese triplets. You suggested when an eligible fellow appears on the office scene (as one did recently) that they should flip a coin and the two losers should get lost.

Please send me the names and addresses of the losers. I'm just back from Vietnam and a little out of touch here in Cleveland.

PIANO ADJUDICATOR ELEANOR PATCH

Piano adjudicator keen on accordion

Eleanor Patch — a native British Columbian whose successful teaching of piano, accordion and theory has earned her an enviable reputation in Vancouver musical circles, both as an expert in child education and as a teacher of advanced pedagogy.

Last Summer, at the Dominion Finals of the Centenary Festivals of Music, held in St. John, N. B., her students won two major awards for First and Second Place marks in the Senior Piano Classes.

She will be an adjudicator at the Terrace Music Festival, March 27-30.

Miss Patch's early training was influenced by teachers closely connected with famous teachers, among whom were Matthey, Leschetizky and Teichmüller, and further stimulated by numerous master classes given by distinguished musicians.

Although her major effort is in the pianistic field, Miss Patch is also interested in the accordion and its development in the classical field. She was active in the promotion of "Bach" Classes for Accordion, which have been successfully included in Vancouver's Kiwanis Music Festival.

Well known for her work with tiny tots, Miss Patch has given numerous lectures on music education for the very young. She has adjudicated piano and accordion classes at a number of Canadian festivals.

An Associate of the Royal Conservatory of Music of Toronto, Miss Patch is an active member of the A. R. C. T. and Alumni Association, and an executive member of the "Kelly Kirby" Teachers' Association.

Past President of the Vancouver Branch of the B.C. Registered Music Teachers' Association, she is at present an executive member of the local Branch and of the Provincial Council, as well as being a representative to the C.F.M.T.A.

MINOR BASEBALL PRESIDENT NORAH JACQUES

Women needed (men, too) for boys' ball leagues

What's a baseball story doing on a women's page?

Ask Norah Jacques and she'll tell you that women have a great deal to do with baseball.

And in this town she'd like to see more women involved in the game.

The game in this context is not big league or even senior league. Baseball — Mr. Norah Jacques' book is the 150 Terrace kids in 11 teams who were able to play in little leagues last year because big people, men and women, took the time to help them play.

She is president of the Terrace Minor Baseball Association.

And she is using this pace to make a plea for more women volunteers to help youngsters play baseball.

But naturally enough, she isn't ignoring the men.

"Certainly, it's not just a woman's job, but mothers do have more time for administrative jobs," she said.

And in fairness, she added: "Men are better coaches, managers and umpires."

She is appealing to both sexes to turn out the minor baseball association's annual meeting this Friday, March 22 at 8 p.m. in the Community Centre.

There is an added urgency for more volunteers to help out this year. Terrace will host the provincial championships for Pony League — boys in the 13-14 age range.

"We're going to need people to help out with accommodation, food, entertainment and transportation," she said.

But the main reason for her appeal for adult volunteers is the fact that if they don't offer their services, some boys won't get a chance to play baseball this summer.

Referring to last year's season when 150 boys played on 11 teams she noted: "If we had more help, there could have been more teams."

Right now she's faced with the prospect of seeing last year's Pony League regional champions dropping out of organized baseball because there isn't a senior Colts League for their present age group.

Terrace minor baseball currently has Little Canadians (up to 12 years) and Pony League (13-14).

"Last year's Ponys are out on their ears unless we can get a Colts League organized," she said.

Mrs. Jacques, whose husband Roy coached the Terrace regional champions last year, has two youngsters playing baseball, also works as a nurse-receptionist. She's kept busy.

"A lot of people say they have no time for baseball. But if you're interested, you'll find the time," she said.

Minor baseball prospects look a little better this year with the expected opening of the Rotary Park to increase facilities for games.

But even so, you'll find a minor league ball game just about every night of the week, and some nights as many as three.

It's a little late to ask what can a woman do in minor baseball, when one is president of the local association.

But Norah Jacques can suggest a number of jobs which keep the leagues working. Even just keeping score is a big help. And for the really unambitious there is one job always open.

"One big thing we need more than anything else is fans," she said.

A self confessed sports bug, Norah Jacques curls, plays golf and badminton. And she'd really like to play women's softball again.

"But I can't," she explained, "they always play it in the baseball season."

Builds plane in basement

SASKATOON (CP) — Building an aircraft isn't novel, but doing it in a basement is. Frank Stevens and his wife are doing all the work themselves, even the upholstery. He says his plane will be made capable of 150 miles an hour when it is airborne in about two years.

If your're shoes are frippy, Leather Bureau understands

Specially Written for The Terrace Herald.

By JEAN SHARP
Canadian Press Women's Editor

Know what frippy means? Or monster shoes? Every fashion season brings its share of new tags. The Leather Bureau has a glossary to help you sound with it in the shoe store.

Baby doll has been revived from the 30s to describe broad, round-toed shoes.

The ballet look has flat heels with slender instep straps and fluffy bows. They might be worn with the mid-skirt.

Bi-colors are two-color shoes. They and tri-color shoes are in gray and camel, navy and green, russet and black this season. Bonnie and Clyde is the 30s again, the gangster style of pin-striped suits, bi-color shoes, slouch hats.

Extension soles stand out all around the shoe for a brogue look in tailored daytime wear.

Frippy is the work to describe the costume effect of long skirts, ruffled necklines and cuffs.

Hardware goes on being in vogue, as eyelets, buckles and other closures with a hand-wrought appearance.

He — she shoes are women's shoes with details borrowed from men's such as perforations, monk straps, tassels.

Kitties have tongues and fringes, are in the he-she category. They are popular with the young to be worn with tartans. Knob toes are pump toes similar to those on men's work shoes. They are a feature of monster shoes.

Max is the skirt that may reach as low as five inches above the ankle. It is intended for evening, out or at home, and should be worn with a high-heeled shoe.

Midl is the mid-calf skirt, also to be worn with a high heel.

Minis are three to eight inches above the knee.

Monster or brute shoes is the name for the heavy version of the man-tailored look. They have clunky heels, heavy perforations and antiquing, blunt bulbous or even knob toes.

The pretty girl look is the tagline for the return of a soft, romantic appearance in dark clothes.

The small-foot look has rounded toes, shortened vamps and shelled throattines for the feminine finale to the pretty girl look.

Stacked heels are back in the fashion spotlight because they wuit the mannish look. They are on most walking and main-tailored shoes.

The wet look is the appearance of glass or shine on patent leathers.

Pot Plants Add To Outdoor Decorating

Outdoor gardens can be easily supplemented with container plants for those who want to be weedless gardeners this spring and summer. Even avid green-thumbed gardeners appreciate the colorful flowering plants or unusual foliage in clay containers make to outdoor landscaping effects.

For maximum decorative mileage, try some of the following suggestions.

- Keep the raised planting bed or planter near the entrance of the house in flower-show perfection with the varied array of plants available at nearby nurseries, florist shops or garden centers.

- Start with spring-flowering bulbs, then switch to annuals and tender bedding plants. Later, select hardy chrysanthemums. All are grown in porous clay pots that can be plunged right into planter box soil for a continuous seasonal display.

- A hot spot on patio or terrace can be converted into a cactus garden.

- Cacti grow in all shapes and sizes and make interesting and unusual arrangements. Plunge the clay-potted plants into planter soil, or simply slip them into matching saucers. They love sun and a sandy soil kept on the dry side.

- Grow a selection of potted herbs on a kitchen window shelf. Nothing perks up summer meals more than fresh herbs. Parsley, chives, tarragon, basil and mint can all be grown in small three or four-inch clay pots.

The well-equipped mudroom should have a water closet, a sink with hot and cold water, a drinking fountain, a place to hang clothes and a work counter where flowers can be arranged and vegetables fresh from the garden can be washed.

WHEN A COMBINATION DINING-FAMILY ROOM became too small for the family, a direct approach solved the problem: Make the room bigger by building an addition to it. Existing room and addition are united in design and appearance by textured, factory-finished hardwood plywood paneling on two accent walls. This view looks from dining area through open room divider, into family room. Paneling is Georgia-Pacific's Brasilia.

Colors brighten home life

Color brightens the family environment, adds a touch of splendor to the home, lifts the spirits of the homemaker as she goes about her daily routine.

How to put more color into living? Create a cheerful background with paint.

Light colors reflect more light, make things seem larger but lighter in weight. They're upbeat, cheery.

Dark colors absorb light, make things look smaller.

Bright colors make areas seem larger than they are. They attract the eye, and can be used to draw attention from unattractive objects.

Warm colors — reds, oranges, yellows and yellow-greens — are emotionally stimulating, and convey a feeling of warmth.

Cool colors — blues, violets, blue-greens, blue-grays — make things seem cooler. They're relaxing.

To give the bedroom a start-the-day-right look, try painting the walls a favorite color, then accenting with small quantities of brighter hues in draperies and accessories.

In the kitchen, add light by painting countertops and cabinets white or a light color. For interest, use a bright color inside the cabinets. Or, choose a tint of a favorite color for walls, using a complementary deeper shade for cabinets.

To brighten a dark hallway, use light colors on walls and woodwork.

Put sunshine in washdays by painting the laundry room a warm, sunny color. Shades of yellow are stimulating; shades of pink are flattering and cheerful.

In the living room, use deep-toned hues to accent light wood furniture, light shades to bring out the elegance of dark finishes.

For the bathroom, choose cheery, flattering colors. Walls in delicate pastels can be accented by towels and accessories in brighter hues.

Plan the painting with future relaxation in mind.

Use easy-to-apply latex or water-base paints for the walls, an alkyd or oil-base paint for woodwork.

Dining Area Needs Light

A common mistake in selecting a fixture for a dining room is to shop for the most decoratively correct model, without regard for lighting requirements. A chandelier may key a romantic mood and help fine silver and dinnerware sparkle like jewels — but there are limitations.

The low level of illumination is unflattering to the appearance of the hostess and her guests. It's hard to see food well, and this annoys some people. Setting the table and tidying up are difficult.

To maintain the glamour of the chandelier along with better lighting, install two or more recessed spotlights in the ceiling, suggests the American Home Lighting Institute.

Moms Want Mudroom

A mudroom is one of the most-wanted home additions, especially among homemakers with small children, according to a survey reported by the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau.

Chief purpose of the mudroom is to trap mud, snow and other dirt before it gets into the living area. It does so by changing the traffic pattern into the house.

This means that the mudroom is not only a place to shed damp boots and clothes before entering another part of the house, it's also ideal for children to use while playing or gardeners while working in the yard.

Ideal place for a mudroom is just off the kitchen. Other good spots are the garage or the laundry room.

Texas layman at Uplands Baptist

Uplands Baptist Church will have the welcome mat out for two visitors from Texas March 24.

Mr. Arlie Mays of Amarillo Texas and Mr. Jimmy Roberts of Dallas, both deacons in their home communities, will spend six days helping to strengthen the work at Uplands.

Both men are Christian businessmen, active in their home communities and in their churches.

Jimmy Roberts is employed by the Baptist Foundation of Texas as manager of the church loan department.

Arlie Mays is in the personal investment business, as well as being Director of the Baptist Foundation of Texas.

The two visiting laymen will be in Terrace from March 24 to 30.

EASTER SEAL CAMPAIGN in Terrace is headed by Lions' Lady Pat Sears. See story below.

Lion's Lady backs Easter Seal drive

Don't throw that packet of Easter Seals in the trash can.

Pat Sears wants you to use them.

Ans some local child could benefit from the money you give for the seals.

Four did last year.

Pat Sears is in her fifth year of heading the local Easter Seal campaign for the Society for Crippled Children.

The campaign opened officially yesterday (March 19) when the seals began to arrive by mail.

It closes Good Friday when local donations are tallied and forwarded to Vancouver headquarters.

The Ladies are an unofficial or semi-official offshoot of the Lions Clubs. They work as an auxiliary but here in Terrace have also taken on the project of backing the Easter Seal appeal for Crippled Children.

Mrs. Sears lists four major objectives for money raised by the campaign.

It finances Easter Seal buses to take crippled youngsters to school. They used to be called Bunny buses but the name has been quietly dropped since Play-boy's Hugh Hefner redefined the word "Bunny".

They finance Easter Seal House, a place where parents can stay with their children at a nominal rent when they have to travel to Vancouver for special treatment.

There is a summer camp for crippled children, at Chehalis where trained workers and nurses make camping possible for children who couldn't keep up with normal camp life.

And there's patient service which covers medical expenses, braces, cost of medicine, and in some cases transportation.

Incidentally, the Society for Crippled Children helps a lot more youngsters than those suffering from limb deformities.

According to Pat Sears, the priority goes to crippled children and after that to sick children.

How does the Crippled Children campaign affect local youngsters?

Four Terrace children benefited from treatment in Vancouver last year.

And remember little Carol Klein, last year's local Tammy? She was photographed with a brace on last year. This year the brace is gone.

Terrace does keep up with the provincial average in giving — approximately one out of nine households.

But Pat Sears and the Lions' Ladies would like to see the response go up this year.

One teenager to another: "Dead? This town's so dead that if you took LSD you'd see the Lawrence Welk show."

Steel workers make bid to beat Bill 33

Aluminum workers in the Alcan plant at Kitimat unanimously endorsed efforts to beat Bill 33, March 1.

Local 5115 of the United Steelworkers of America, representing 2,000 aluminum workers in Kitimat, challenged every other union in B.C. to match the level of its members contributions into the special fund established by the B.C. Federation of Labour to defeat Bill 33 and the bill's author, the Secord government.

Following a packed membership meeting, local officers reported that the membership had unanimously endorsed the idea of contributing to the "Beat bill 33 fund" and had followed up their endorsement with cheques, cash and pledges of further and future contributions.

"The response of the membership was overwhelming," reported Roy Simmonds, president of the local.

"The men have had a bellyful of anti-labour legislation, and this one takes the cake. If this bill goes on the statute books," said Simmonds, "it means that there will be no meaningful bargaining at all this year as the bill makes it unlawful for the workers to withdraw their labour."

"We, in Kitimat, have never had a strike and hope we never will," continued Simmonds, "however we have always had the right. To lose this basic right means dictatorship."

"The men know the score," said Simmonds, "and they know that if they can't change the law they'll have to change the government, and that's what they intend to do."

"We hope that every other union in B.C. will answer Mr. Bennett's challenge in the same way," he said.

The collective agreement between the Steelworkers and Alcan expires June 21 this year.

FRANK SKIDMORE

Chamber meeting for talks and fellowship

By Frank Skidmore
President, Terrace Chamber of Commerce

Each year, members of the Association of Northwest Chambers of Commerce, from communities of this part of British Columbia and southern Alaska, meet to discuss the many problems concerning this area, and to enjoy the fellowship of such a gathering.

Those of us in the Terrace Chamber of Commerce, take great pleasure in being host to this, the 37th annual convention of this association.

The members of this chamber, the citizens of Terrace, would like to extend a hearty welcome to all visiting delegates, and I, as president, am pleased to have this opportunity, to extend this welcome, on behalf of our membership.

I sincerely trust every visitor will receive the best in Terrace hospitality, that the convention is a complete success.

Those of us who reside here, take pride in our town, just as residents of most any community would. We don't say we have everything to offer, but we do have many of the amenities that go towards making a pleasant community. Most of these facilities have been added in only these past few years. Many more improvements are expected in the near future.

Terrence is growing rapidly and anyone visiting here only periodically will see outstanding changes each time they come.

A good indication, is the several major construction projects, presently underway. This is generally an excellent barometer to gauge the future and to substantiate these statements. Last years building permits within the municipal boundaries, exceeded eight million dollars. Several scheduled buildings to be constructed in 1968 will mean another big construction year.

I am quite sure that a great of similar growth, is taking place in all the communities, throughout the northwest area and it would appear that as each town develops, the effects rub off on all its neighbours. Such growth should improve our total economic structure and a healthy economy is one of the many features that the Chamber of Commerce attempts to encourage. With many recent announcements of new sawmills, pulp mills, pipelines, etc., spread in various locations of this corner of the continent, we should all derive some of the benefits. Particularly since we are beginning to realize a greater diversification of our economy. This variety should help stabilize all our towns.

In Terrace, we consider ourselves to be in the centre of all this development from a geographic, population and communications point of view. We feel Terrace to be the logical location for establishment of wholesale warehousing facilities and other auxiliary services, to the communities surrounding us in all directions. We hope such development will help balance our economy with varied year-round payroll. This thinking has been supported during recent years, as many such services have established here. More is hoped for the future.

Those involved in the Chambers of Commerce realize we must continuously concentrate our efforts, to improve first our community, and then the region within which our community is situated. From there we proceed further to concern ourselves with our province or state, national affairs and international.

With each step, we form a larger representation and its through this united effort, that we obtain our accomplishments. Many of our programs meet defeat, but we have the satisfaction in those matters in which we are successful.

I hope, that the result of the convention will see many of the resolutions that are passed going on to solve problems, that will be of benefit to all of us. It remains for those who participate, to attempt to make this fact.

New hope for unemployables

EDMONTON (CP) — An experimental program in turning unemployable men into productive citizens is under way here.

The plan aims to find out why the men are unemployable, then to overcome the problem and fit them into jobs.

John Hoffer and Charles Gordon of the Canadian Welfare Council in Ottawa, who recently visited Edmonton to set up final plans for the project, termed the field "highly unknown, highly exploratory."

"We won't be trying to take the easy cases," said Hoffer. "We won't be loading the dice in our favor."

Keith Wass, superintendent of the city's social service department, said interviews have begun with some of the men who will take part in the program.

"None of them are really happy being non-productive," he said.

Under the experimental program, an intensive service unit will be set up with three workers and a supervisor. They will get to know the unemployable men and their families and try to find the root of the trouble.

The 2 1/2-year program will be financed by the federal welfare department.

Wass said it is impossible to say how many men can be helped "because we don't know how many cases each worker will be able to handle and still provide the intensive service necessary."

SKEENA BRIDGE is picturesque, but also a bottleneck to motorists and truckers who are forced to use it. Terrace Chamber of Commerce has been one of the leading groups calling Provincial Government attention to the inadequacy of the bridge.

Natural Gas executive will speak to Chambers

Natural Gas on one topic of major interest in this area as a big pipeline slowly snakes its way to the coastline.

after 40 years horse retires

TRURO, N.S. (CP) — Ho-Away-Pete, one of the world's oldest horses, has retired to Breton Farms in nearby Brentwood. The farm's owner, Bert Breton, says he's in wonderful condition for a 41-year-old horse. Grey flecks on his head, face and back are the only visible signs of age.

Pygmy owls seen in B.C.

VICTORIA (CP) — Naturalist David Stirling says several rare pygmy owls, hardly the size of a robin, have been seen recently, by members of the Victoria Natural History Society.

Northwest B.C. Chamber of Commerce convention will hear an expert at the banquet Friday, March 22.

He is D.A. Duguid, 39, secretary of Pacific Northern Gas Ltd.

Duguid, a UBC graduate in engineering will speak on the general topic "Natural Gas — Energy for growth".

He is expected to discuss the natural gas picture in B.C. with special reference to the Pacific Northern project in west central B.C.

Duguid is also manager of market development for West-coast Transmission, with the responsibility to develop new projects for Pacific Northern.

He worked for an electrical products firm and for a major oil company before joining West-coast Transmission 11 years ago.

Thursdays out of Ray's Calendar

VICTORIA (CP) — Ray Wunderluch never liked Thursday, so he invented a calendar that eliminates it. Because the length of the year wouldn't be changed, there would be 60 weeks and nine more paydays. It also eliminates one of the two Fridays falling on the 13th. But there's a hitch — a three-week vacation would last only 18 days.

Workers Volunteer

VICTORIA (CP) — A symphony musician works with retarded children. A bank manager visits a lonely pensioner.

A university student tutors a group of children who can't afford a tutor.

All these and more are a result of the Volunteer Bureau of Greater Victoria.

Joan Stockdill, a spokesman for the bureau, says the symphony musician, a bank manager, university students, housewives and night workers are among many people who have volunteered to help any community organization that needs an extra hand.

Since the bureau first opened three months ago, to co-ordinate supply and demand for volunteer workers, more than 40 persons have been placed, Mrs. Stockdill says.

"A lot of men have been placed, including a number of night workers who feel they want to make more use of their daylight time," she says.

"The talents they have had to offer have brought agencies to our door who at first said they did not think they would be able to use our services."

"We can use anyone, whether they are kindly persons with no special skill, or highly trained in sports or academically."

The Volunteer Bureau is an offshoot of the Victoria Community Welfare Council and is open two days a week for persons interested in simply helping others.

THIS PICTURE IS just history now. It was taken last summer when the foundations were put down for the new million-dollar addition to the Terrace Co-op, part of a total $8½ million construction boom in the community last year. The Co-op addition is now partly in use and formal opening date is expected in the near future.

Chamber meeting to hear B.C. Tel's Stan Patterson

Telephone expansion is big news in this part of the world. Terrace District Manager for B.C. Tel will talk about telephone expansion at the closing luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce Northwest Regional Convention Saturday, March 23 at the Hot Springs.

Patterson came to Terrace last summer replacing C.L. Benne who was transferred to New Westminster.

Patterson served in World War II as Captain with the RCME in radio and telecommunications and was with the Dominion Government in communications prior to joining B.C. Tel in 1948. He is a member of the Professional Engineers of B.C. and an executive member of the Public Works Association of B.C. Patterson was a director of the Hollyburn Country Club in West Vancouver.

He is active in community sports having coached in Little League baseball, basketball, football and soccer. Most recently he has trained competitor swimmers at Hollyburn — one member of the club was on the Pan American team.

Blame bottles for bush fires

EDMONTON (CP) — H. A. Rusto, Alberta minister of lands and forests, says discarded glass pop bottles caused at least two forest fires last year in the province. The bottles can start fires by magnifying the sun's rays. L. H. McManus, Alberta deputy minister of highways, says it would be good thing if the non-returnable bottles were banned in Alberta, as discarded bottles often litter roadsides and ditches.

Northwest's federated chambers 'get along very well together'

The Chamber of Commerce's best known aim is to boost the home town.

But in the Pacific Northwest the federated chambers also cooperate very nicely for the economic good of the total area. "We get along very well together," secretary-treasurer John Gray commented.

Gray is secretary-treasurer of the Northwest British Columbia Chambers of Commerce and Alaska Affiliates.

These are the people who are coming to Terrace this week to hold a regional convention here March 21, 22, 23.

The region covers some 17 separate chambers.

Gray who also works full time for the Kitimat Chamber admitted that "each Chamber definitely strives for its own community."

Current competition between Rupert and Kitimat for deep sea harbor development is a case in point.

But John Gray added that where the whole region was concerned, there was plenty of co-operation.

The Northwest chambers are strongly concerned in the fields of education and communications at this time, the secretary-treasurer said.

And education in this context means the establishment of higher education facilities to serve the region.

Gray hailed the vocational school to open in Terrace this fall as a step in the right direction.

But he also said that concern for senior education at the college level was being shown by many members.

He felt travel costs were too high for many students who wish to attend university.

Communications covers a lot of country but John Gray said that the main concern now was road and rail transport.

He stressed the need for a north-south highway to meet Highway 16, and specifically mentioned the need for a road to reach the Stewart-Cassiar area.

Gray also said that the federated chambers would continue to press for more frequent service by Canadian National Railways in winter months.

"Their decision is a matter of economics," he said, but added increased use of the line must follow development in the area.

John Gray as befits a Chamber of Commerce man, has high hopes for the Northwest.
